

LOCAL NEWS.

The Loudoun Mirror in copying the announcement of the expected speedy opening of the Alex., Loudoun and Hampshire R. R., to Farmville, a few miles this side of Leesburg, says:—"We have been so long cut off from all direct communication with the outside world and especially with old Alexandria, that we feel a thrill of joy already inspiring us in anticipation of the happy event, and we hope the day may not be far distant when we may have the pleasure of seeing our quiet village roused up to a proper appreciation of her position by the presence of the steam car; and all the life-giving energies that usually follow in the wake of so important an event."

We are pleased to notice that our merchants are receiving, and filling orders, from Lynchburg and beyond, for goods of all descriptions, the farmers and merchants in that section of the state, finding it to their interests to purchase in Alexandria. Merchandise and other articles are sold just as cheap here, accommodations for travellers just as good, (and prices lower) and the facilities for transportation much better than any other point. "All we ask is a trial."

MORE ROBBERIES.—The dwelling house of Mr. Stein, on Columbus street, between King and Prince, was entered by a burglar last night, who carried off a gold watch, some twenty-five dollars in money, and a suit of clothing, &c., belonging to Myer Geenebaum. A negro woman was awakened and gave the alarm, but the robber made his escape.

Most of the money recently stolen from Mrs. Elliot, at Yeates' Garden, has been recovered.

We hear that some movement is expected to be made shortly to enclose the Cemeteries near this place, and prevent them from being used as a pasture for cattle. It is time, indeed, that this matter should be attended to. Their appearance now is melancholy enough. The only cemeteries now properly cared for, and protected by enclosures, are the Catholic, the Soldier's, and the grounds opposite the Catholic, used for the interment of colored people.

Richard J. Faulkner, of Georgetown, D. C., is to convey the mails from Washington, D. C., by Georgetown, Langley, Va., Prospect Hill, Springvale, Dranesville, Whaley's Store, Broad Run, and Belmont, to Leesburg, and back, three times a week, at the rate of $700 per annum, till 31st December 1865.

The Boatmen on the the C. & O. Canal report that the season is unusually unhealthy along the line of the canal. The diseases seem to be generally of the bilious form. Scarcely a boat arrives that has not one hand afflicted with the ague and fever of the severest character, and on some of the boats all hands are sick.

Ministers of the Gospel are required by law to affix a five cent stamp to each certificate of marriage they may return to the Clerk's office. This is necessary before it can be admitted to record. A failure to affix the stamp to any instrument of writing requiring the same, subjects the party executing such instrument to a penalty of $200.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases were before the Mayor this morning: Three boys for disorderly conduct; fined $5 each. Lucy Williams and Lewis Morgan, negroes, disorderly conduct—Lucy sent to work house, and Morgan dismissed on payment of costs—$2.50.

A heavy fog prevailed early this morning—but it soon cleared away, under the influence of the bright sunshine. We are having fine fall weather. But rain is much wanted.

James Carrington, et al., were arrested and tried before Justice Beach yesterday evening, charged with assaulting Samuel Caton. They were discharged upon bail for good behavior.

Several valuable pieces of property, real estate, &c., by auction, will be offered for sale, to-morrow, in front of the Mayor's office. See advertisements.

The coal trade still remains active on the C. & O. Canal, though the arrivals are less than last week. Grain and flour are arriving quite freely, and the demand is brisk.

The soldiers that had been stationed in Leesburg, for several weeks, left last week for Warrenton.

The Carriers will make their semi-monthly collections from the subscribers to the Gazette, in the western end of the town, to-morrow. As there are many in arrears for several weeks past, they will oblige us much by settling with the carriers.

J. N. says he is to speak to night in front of the Marshal House. He avows his aim to be "Truth," irrespective of "Pressure."

The Massachusetts Democratic Convention has adopted a series of resolutions, to the following effect:—

The first affirms the creed of the Democratic party to be the Union and the Constitution, and its objects the preservation of the liberties of the people in the Union, a free press and free speech; the second returns thanks to the soldiers and sailors; the third requires the speedy subordination, everywhere, of the military to the civil power, and the restoration of the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury and other democratic rights; the fourth recognizes the obligation to pay the national debt, but does not believe in putting the whole burden of taxation on the shoulders of the producing classes; the fifth requires the speedy restoration of State power everywhere, so that a standing army may be dispensed with at once; the sixth fully endorses the policy of President Johnson, and promises him support; the seventh returns thanks to the veterans of the war, and favors such legislation by the National and State Governments, as shall secure equality of compensation to the earlier as well as the later soldiers of the war; the eighth refers to the labor question.

These resolutions are in strong contrast to the resolutions, purposes, and designs of the Massachusetts Republican Convention recently held. But, in Massachusetts, Mr. Sumner's politics bear sway.

The New York News maintains in an elaborate article, that the test oath for members of Congress will not be enforced. The probabilities are, that, by this Congress, the test oath will be required, without alteration—or, if there is any alteration at all, its provisions will be even made more stringent than they are at present.

The Loudoun Mirror speaking of the pleasant situation, location, and society of Leesburg, advises the erection of additional dwelling houses in that place, as they are wanted. All success to Leesburg!

A dreadful melee occurred lately at a church in Pickens county, Ga., in which two persons were killed. Those who came to the church to make the disturbance were pursued and before they were captured seven of them were killed. This is wholesale business.

A line of steamers between Baltimore and Liverpool is shortly to be started.
